(7/8/8.1/10) Q: Can't open program to view.exe file despite administrator Recently my computer has been displaying a message indicating that I "can't open this file" because it's "protected." I'm not exactly sure why this is happening, so I checked the forums for answers but they didn't quite apply. There's not much to this other than my file is called "checkout.exe" and it's in a folder on my desktop called "accessing files." Additionally, I'm not running in UAC mode, so my system is administrator. The message doesn't appear when I'm logged into my school's domain or when I'm connected to the internet. I do have a problem when I'm not using a network connection, though, as sometimes I'll be working on it and then be done with it completely. When this happens, the message will appear even though I'm not using a network connection. Also, the file is read-only, but I'm not sure if that's causing the message to appear or not. It's pretty sure that the message would show anyway. This is just a little extra info. I've

---
