A lot of games are lost when people decide to fight an unwinnable battle, build the wrong items or go for the wrong objective. But decisions are not only important during the match, but before it as well. And if you are having problems with your pre-match preparation, RabadonExpert is a tool you should consider using. What it does This program contains small guides for all the champions in the game. It gets updated along with the game, using op.gg to continuously refresh its data. When you open it, you get an alphabetical list with all the champions. Clicking on any one of them will give you information about what they are good against, what others are good against them, the best spells, items, in what order to upgrade their abilities and what masteries to use. How you can use it Just like you would have a travel guide at hand when you are going to another country, you can keep R

== This is the program created by Murchadhach 'Rabadon' == The whole idea here was to create a program similar to the guides == currently available on the net, but simpler and more portable. == I have found it relatively easy to edit and update and == wanted to make it even better. == Like I said, it is relatively simple and easy to use. == Just download it and open it. The rest is == up to you =) == I want this to become a weekly, monthly, or quarterly issue == So, what do you think? Poison is a very nasty counter to AD champions (particularly Galio and Jax), because they can usually find him by tapping his very low health and using self-heals. Poisons dealing health steal increases the effectiveness of those self-heals. Jax is a great example. With the freeze buff, he can destroy any spell or ability that deals damage. Here are some suggestions to beat Jax: Hextech Gunblade, while Jax is recharging, or Decoy (best timing) Spore (best timing) Leap Slam (best timing) Blood Crypt (best timing) Ghost/Haunting Veil Counter Logic (best timing) Swain is even easier, because he gets spammed with both Inhale and Exhale. Especially when Jax uses the Refresher to gain a minute of extra health. Hextech Gunblade, while Swain is recharging, or Flash (best timing) Zhonya's Hourglass (best timing) Concentrated Effect (best timing) Rakan's Insight Counter Logic (best timing) Bard is another character whose health is not that high. His major tools are Bardiche and Bash. Unbinding both of them, and damaging up with the first of the two is a good bet. Bash is an easy counter for Bard: Create a diversion/taunt (and once Unbind Bash is used twice, the enemy team will attack the diversion before attacking the real Bard) Use your minions for a "tank" Play the second Bardiche/Bash at the same time the enemy team (with their main healers) use their spells. Vayne is another character that can be easily shut down with a simple counter (many of the are aa67ecbc25
