Geosoft Oasis Montaj Crack Download, Oasis Montaj CrackQ: Can Spring Data JPA insert value derived from another entity object? Let's say we have a class representing a single player of a game with attributes like playerId playerName otherAttributes A player can represent multiple pieces. Therefore, the classes representing multiple pieces might look like class Piece { private String pieceId; private String playerId; private String position; private String color; private String type; private String otherAttributes; } class PieceWithColor { private String pieceId; private String playerId; private Color color; private String type; private String otherAttributes; } The colors and types are predefined as classes. I want to insert one single piece in the database. Therefore, I could either use a Player entity or a Piece entity with a certain id like @OneToOne(fetch = FetchType.LAZY) @JoinColumn(name = "player_id", referencedColumnName = "id") @JsonIgnore private Player player; @Id @Column(name = "id") private String id; or @Id @Column(name = "player_id", referencedColumnName = "id") @JsonIgnore private String playerId; @OneToOne(fetch = FetchType.LAZY) @JoinColumn(name = "player_id", referencedColumnName = "id") @JsonIgnore private Player player; So I figured that it would be a good idea to use the latter one. Only problem is that I am not sure how to achieve mapping the piece's color and type attribute in the Player entity. I know that it would be possible for each piece to have its own class representing its color and type. That's why I am wondering how to map the player entity to the different types. I thought of creating a one-to 6d1f23a050
