"No matter how old you get, it doesn't diminish your love for your partner. So we want to keep the fire and energy alive - and we may decide we want to celebrate the full 10 years, but we'll only do it on a one-off basis. "We just want people to keep it light and start celebrating a little more. It can be a good time, so why not?" "It's not that we don't appreciate what we have," he continued. "We don't feel like we have everything. "I'm only missing one thing - the kids. That's my biggest regret. They have to be in their 20s now, but I haven't had the chance to be there yet." The couple met at the Birmingham-based Breakfast television show Supersonic with Jason Cundy in the summer of 2011. "We were introduced by a mutual friend and we hit it off straight away," said Murray. "We got on really well and we're still friends now. "We didn't want to waste time because when you're seeing someone who you really want to spend time with, it's vital you make the most of
